HOW TO VOTE ON THE VOTING MACHINE

VOTER ABOUT TO CLOSE CURTAIN

1. Move the Red Handle from the Left to the Right as far as it will go. (This will close the curtain around you.)
2. Turn DOWN A POINTER OVER the name of each candidate you wish to vote for (for each office) thus:

AND LEAVE IT DOWN

3. Continue in the same manner to the end of the ballot, taking care to turn down a pointer for EVERY office that you wish to vote for, and LEAVE THE POINTERS DOWN.
4. Move the Red Handle to the left as far as it will go. (This will register your vote and return the Pointers to their original position, after which it will open the Curtain.)

A FEW WORDS OF EXPLANATION

No votes are registered until you move the Curtain Lever to the Left to open the Curtain. You can therefore make as many changes in your ballot as you wish while the Curtain Lever is at the right (curtain closed). Each candidate's voting Pointer is directly ABOVE his name.

The machine is so arranged that you CANNOT TURN DOWN MORE THAN THE PROPER NUMBER OF POINTERS for an office.

BEFORE GOING INTO THE MACHINE ON ELECTION DAY

1. Examine the specimen Ballot and decide what candidates you will vote for, and know where their names are located.
2. Practice a few times on one of the little Instruction Models, until sure that you know how to cast your ballot.

AFTER ENTERING THE MACHINE

1. Turn down the Pointers OVER each Candidate's name for whom you wish to vote.
2. LEAVE the Pointers DOWN.

Assessment Answers

By James Burley

Q. Do you figure the 15% tax credit allowance before or after applying the 10% inflation rollback?

Q. The assessment on my house was raised last year from a total of $8,400 to $12,450, which represents a 48.2% increase. With the present inflated cost of real estate, I cannot argue that $12,450 represents at least 50% of recent sales prices of houses in my block. What I would like to know is how will the 15% limit affect the assessed value of my house for 1978? Just how does the 15% limit provision read?

Q. I read that new assessments would be no more than 15%. Our old assessment was $8,140. Now it is $8,840. That certainly is more than 15%, unless we are figuring it wrong. At 15%, the difference should be $912, not $2,700. Please let us know if we are correct in this.

A. There is still considerable confusion over the 15% tax credit and how it applies. These three letters are typical.

The rollback, reducing the assessment to 45% of the fair market value of the dwelling, is computed first. This additional 5% inflationary factor is only allowed to owner-occupied, single-family dwellings. It changes the assessment of record for 1978, but has no effect on reducing the prior year's assessment. Previously, assessments were at 50% of value.

The 15% homeowners' tax credit had its origin prior to the rollback. It was employed as a means of softening the effects of a steep assessment increase based upon the rising market value of real property.

Contrary to what many believe, the 15% tax credit law does not put a ceiling on assessments. There is no limit on assessments other than that they should represent the market value, less the inflationary allowance. The 15% credit addresses itself to the assessment only and not to value.

For the 1978-79 tax year, the credit is the amount by which the 1978 assessment on the dwelling exceeds the 1977 assessment or the 1976 assessment multiplied by 115%, whichever is less, multiplied by 115%, with the difference multiplied by the applicable local tax rate. The state portion of the tax rate is not included in this calculation.

To try to simplify this, you should first determine which is the lesser figure, your 1976 assessment times 115% or the 1977 assessment. Once you have made that determination, multiply again the lesser figure by 115% and subtract this from the 1978 assessment. Then multiply the difference, provided it is a positive number, by tax current local tax rate.

Originally, the 15% credit was to apply only to the 1977-1978 tax years. It is now to continue for the 1979-1980 tax year also.

There is a formula that has been worked out to figure the credit, but if you do not care for algebra, just remember that even though your assessment increase may be greater than 15%, the tax on it will stop at that point. If the assessment exceeds 15%, a tax credit should show on your tax bill.

Questions or letters of general interest on assessments and the property tax should be addressed to 'Assessment Answers-James Burley' in care of this newspaper. They will be answered through this column to the extent that space allows.

CONVERSATIONS ON CARPETING

Brought to you by Carolyn & Butch Helbig
who say "A floor without a rug is like a kiss without a hug."

THE CHOICE IS YOURS

Confused about what carpeting to buy for your home? Has the dazzling array of colors and textures made your decision a difficult one? Here are some suggestions that will help you make the right choice.

Begin by making a list of your favorite colors. Include only those colors you feel you could live with every day. Keep the list in mind as you view the many carpet choices and select your carpet color from the list.

You can also narrow the possible choice by carefully considering the room you are decorating. Is it spacious or small? Will the carpeting be one of the focal points of the room or a quiet accent to the furnishings? Will there be light or heavy traffic in the room? As you answer these questions, you'll begin to discover what kind of carpeting will best serve your needs.

Now it's time to choose your carpeting. You still must select from many lovely colors and textures. If you're still confused, here's an important rule to remember, "Buy what you like." Trust your own senses. Is the carpet pleasing to you? Do you like its look and feel? You'll be living with the carpet, so what you like really matters.

Each week we will tell you more about carpeting for your home. Watch for these columns.

PET POINTERS

A knock on the door, a crying child, a ringing alarm clock. All minor incidents for those who hear. All major obstacles for a deaf person.

Taking a cue from the Seeing Eye, Inc., the American Humane Association is attempting to do something about this situation by training dogs to serve as guides for deaf Americans.

The dogs-for-the-deaf program began in 1973 under the auspices of the Minnesota Humane Society after an elderly deaf woman requested a replacement for a dog she had trained to respond to sounds. The society worked for two years with dog trainers to develop a suitable training program. Their efforts resulted in the placement of six dogs with deaf persons, and the American Humane Association, an umbrella organization for regional and local humane societies, decided to establish the program on a national level in 1976.

Dogs for the deaf are now trained at AHA headquarters in Denver, Colorado. The dogs receive obedience training and learn to respond to hand signals from deaf persons. They also undergo sound-awareness training to teach them to respond to certain sounds.

Initially, sound-awareness training concentrates on teaching the dogs to respond to three basic sounds important for day-to-day living. These can include the sound of a child crying, a smoke detector, the doorbell and others. Or the person to be paired with dog may choose the sounds used in the dog's training — the phone, burglar alarm, TTY systems (a teletype arrangement used by the deaf to replace the telephone), to name a few.

The dog alerts its master by nudging an arm or leg, then running toward the source of the sound, and returning to the deaf person. Finally the dog and its permanent master learn to work together.

Training is not as extensive for hearing dogs as for Seeing Eye dogs. Almost all dogs, regardless of size or breed, including mixed breeds, can qualify.

Most of the 45 dogs trained to date assist adults in business and in the home. The AHA points out that the hearing dogs can serve a special function as companions for young adults. Parents often restrict the activities of deaf teenagers, fearing their children are vulnerable to fires and other dangers when alone. The presence of a hearing dog reassures parents that children will receive advance warning of an emergency situation.

The dogs for the deaf program is approved by the National Association of the Deaf. It will soon expand to include 10 regional training centers for dogs.

Brief Reply to Senator Mason's Factual Report.

Senator Mason stated last week that some Yough River residents distorted and misrepresented facts. The factual report as published does not entirely set the record straight. I would like to respond to all eleven points listed, but due to the space required to do so, only one quote from Senate Bill 837 and one of the regulations developed by DNR as directed by the Bill will be used.

"Section 8-402. The Secretary shall administer the provisions of this subtitle. He shall formulate and implement a program to carry out the purposes of the Scenic and Wild Rivers Program for each designated river including any other river designated subsequently as part of the system. The Program shall provide for wise management of resources on the land and preservation of their scenic, agricultural, and wild qualities. Development is limited to activities such as fishing, hunting, hiking, horseback riding, natural and geological interpretation, scenic appreciation, and other programs by which the general public can appreciate and enjoy the value of these areas as scenic and wild rivers in a setting of natural solitude." (Emphasis added.)

What is the intent of the above section? Are the property owners being directed by this law as to how to enjoy their land?

From the regulations. 08.15.02. .02 Approval for use and development.

"(2) Where the proposed use or development involves the construction alteration, or modification of any building or structure, the plan shall include a schematic description of the building or structure showing the overall design and dimensions including length, width, height, and total square footage. The plan also shall enumerate the construction materials and exterior colors to be employed."

"03. Residential. Buildings shall be designed to be subdued in appearance and unobtrusive in color so as to harmonize with the surroundings."

The proposed amendments, which Senator Mason stated he supports, state in section .06 (D) "A plan need not be submitted nor is approval required for changes of interior color and interior configuration of structures." (Emphasis added.)

The pages of regulations have the force of law. Any person who violates any of the rules and regulations is subject to a fine of up to $500.00 for the first offense and up to $1,000.00 for the second offense, and/or a jail term not exceeding one year.

A reduction in corridor acreage still leaves the basic problem. The DNR may approve, approve conditionally or deny a request. About the only activity not requiring a permit is the payment of the property tax.

Cancer Society Awards Grant To Dental School

The Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland was recently awarded a grant by the Maryland Division of The American Cancer Society to initiate a coordinated, statewide public and professional education program to combat oral malignancies.

Oral Cancer can be readily detected and responds well to treatment, particularly when diagnosed in the early stages. Statistics indicate that individuals who smoke and/or use alcohol excessively, and persons over 50 years old are most likely to develop oral cancer.

The objectives of the Oral Oncology Public/Professional Education Program are to build public awareness and knowledge concerning oral cancer, and to provide general practitioners and their auxiliaries within the State of Maryland the most up-to-date information concerning the early diagnosis of oral cancer and the management of patients who have or have had oral malignancies.

This information and training will be provided on-site in the office with no charge involved. The self-instructional materials will include booklets, slides and tapes dealing with techniques for diagnosing the problem, management of the problem during the curative phase, and oral health care in the post-treatment and follow-up stage. Emphasis will be placed on the overall management of the patient from the time the malignancy is suspected through the entire follow-up period.

The program will be rendered at the professional's office, free of charge with continuing education credits for the practitioner and his auxiliary. Any persons interested in participating in Maryland's first attempt to provide a comprehensive professional/public education program on malignancies of the oral region, may contact the program coordinator at the University of Maryland Dental School at (301) 528-3795.

TO THE VOTERS OF GARRETT COUNTY!

We, the members of the Deep Creek Lake Businessmen's Association wish to endorse the candidacy of Wayne B. Hamilton for re-election as a Garrett County Commissioner. Our organization does not normally endorse political candidates, but we feel Wayne Hamilton's service to the businessmen, property owners, and Garrett County citizens who use Deep Creek Lake merits our endorsement and his re-election. Specifically, Wayne has served, and must continue to serve us in the following areas:

(1) Wayne Hamilton has been involved in representing the County before the Federal Power Commission for the last seven years defending, not only our property rights as businessmen, but also the property rights of the many second home owners against a Federal Power Commission mandate to open the Buffer Strip around the Lake for excess additional recreation.

(2) Wayne has been working for eight years to bring about the construction of a much needed sewer line on Deep Creek Lake. This system is still in the planning stages and we can not lose the momentum gained to this point.

(3) Wayne was instrumental in developing land use plans for Deep Creek Lake which protects the rights of the businessman as well as the vacationer. Wayne's expertise in keeping balanced economic growth around Deep Creek Lake cannot be lost.

We believe that Wayne must be re-elected in order to insure that these worthy causes can continue toward completion. These issues are not peculiar to the businessman but affect many of the citizens who live or work on Deep Creek Lake. We hope the other voters in the County will join us in returning Wayne B. Hamilton to the County Commissioner's office.

Re-elect

WAYNE HAMILTON

. . . he has served us well.

Board Of Education Gives Tips To Cope With Winter Weather

Parents with school age children should prepare themselves and their children to cope with the changes in the school calendar during poor weather conditions, Board of Education officials warn.

The officials also ask patrons and the public to listen to their radio station for word of school closings rather than call the Board of Education Office, roads department, the radio station or employees of these agencies, tying up telephones which are needed for other calls.

Some things parents can do to help their children face these situations are:

1. Properly dress children with warm clothing and boots in snowy, rainy weather. (Sweaters or light jackets under coats may prove helpful if one part of the building is colder than another).

2. Insure that children are not sent to the bus much earlier than necessary.

3. Keep children away from the road while waiting for the bus. (More accidents occur while students are waiting for the bus and getting on and off the bus than occur while students are actually on the bus).

4. Check in some way to make sure the child did get on the bus. (Road conditions may cause the bus to arrive later than usual). Listening to the radio for bus delays might prove helpful.

5. Make sure the child and bus driver know what to do in an emergency if the bus is much later than expected in arriving at the stop or earlier than expected in getting home. Relatives and neighbors should be alerted and/or children should know how to get into their own home if the family is not there.

6. Recognize that children who are really sick are better off at home than in school.

7. Listen to the local radio station for news about school openings and closings in periods of bad weather.

An open letter to the voters in Allegany and Garrett Counties by Senator Ed Mason:

A factual report on the "Yough River Issue" prompted by the totally distorted information published prior to the primary election.

This open letter responds to an advertisement run by some of the Youghiogheny River residents who have asked you to vote against me because of my support of the Wild and Scenic Rivers Bill in 1975. I normally do not feel compelled to react publicly to those who disagree with me on an issue. When, however, those who disagree do so in newspaper advertisements that so totally distort and misrepresent facts as to mislead the public, I have no alternative but to respond publicly in order to set the record straight. In order to best address the points raised by the advertisement, I will respond to the points individually.

(1) The advertisement stated that I did not represent the people of Western Maryland but rather joined with Baltimore City representatives on the legislation. In fact the bill was widely supported in that it finally set up a structure to protect all wild and scenic rivers in Maryland. One only has to look at the Potomac River to see that the bill was needed. The final vote on the bill was 45 to 0 with two not voting in the Senate and 129 to 1 with 11 not voting in the House of Delegates.

(2) The advertisement stated that the bill opens private land up for use by outsiders for sport and entertainment. In fact the Regulations adopted pursuant to the bill expressly provide that there is to be no public access to the private lands without the consent of the landowner.

(3) The advertisement stated that I voted for the bill in defiance of protests and petitions. In fact, many people in Allegany and Garrett Counties reviewed the bill prior to its passage and urged me to support the bill.

(4) The advertisement stated that the bill prohibits the cutting of timber pursuant to Regulations adopted subsequent to the bill. In fact, timber may be cut as long as the cutting is approved by the Department of Natural Resources and the Garrett County Forest Conservancy District Board. The prior approval is required in order to insure that the cutting does not destroy the natural condition of the land. It is important to point out that the bill said nothing about the cutting of timber. It was the Regulations adopted in accordance with the bill that imposed the restrictions which the advertisement opposes.

I, myself, disagree to some extent with the Regulations drafted by the Department of Natural Resources with the assistance of a local advisory board. I have worked for three years for the improvement of the Regulations. Amendments to the Regulations will be adopted within the next few months.

(5) The advertisement stated that an owner may not plant or cut shrubbery around his house without first obtaining approval from Annapolis. In fact, there are no restrictions on planting and the restrictions on cutting do not apply to cutting done in connection with maintaining a house or farm.

(6) The advertisement stated that the Department of Natural Resources regulates the color of paint to be used for painting houses. In fact, no approval is required for the painting of a house or auxiliary building.

(7) The advertisement stated that a building destroyed by fire must be restored within one year or the possibility exists that a permit for rebuilding will be denied. In fact, only non-permitted uses are subject to this restriction, and, therefore, a home or other similar permitted use may be restored at any time without obtaining any approval.

(8) The advertisement stated that an owner cannot make roads through his land to get to his fields. In fact, there is no restriction on roads or road alignment if the roads are used for reaching homes or fields.

(9) The advertisement stated that the law puts a cloud on the property and that owners cannot sell their land. In fact, the law has improved the value of the property in the Yough corridor. After checking comparative sales just prior to implementation of Regulations, some acreage was going for $400.00 per acre. Present value of that same property is $1900.00 per acre.

(10) In fact, the amendments to the Regulations which I am supporting and are now being supported by the Department of Natural Resources reduces the Corridor from approximately 11,000 acres to approximately 8,000 acres. The number of properties in the Corridor will be reduced from 112 to 69.

(11) In fact, in 1977 I introduced legislation which authorized the payment of money to Yough residents for loss of development rights resulting from the Regulations. I also introduced legislation that mandated that two residents of the Yough "wild corridor" be appointed as members of the local advisory board to assist in the revision of the Regulations. Both bills were signed into law.

Garrett Has 123 Percent Of 1978 Bond Sales Quota

Garrett County continues to rank far above the rest in the sales of Series E and H Savings Bonds, according to the August report released by the Department of the Treasury.

Garrett County has 123 percent of its 1978 quota of $418,329, with sales of $512,965. Cumulative sales by this time in the preceding year were $436,662.

E and H bond sales during August amounted to $48,516.

Next highest subdivision in the state in sales is Baltimore City, with 87 percent of its 1978 quota. Allegany County ranks third, while Howard county is last, with only 27 percent.

State average is 63 percent of the 1978 quota.

Nationally, Series E and H sales for the eight-month period ending August 31 totalled $5,563 million, two percent above the sales of one year ago. Series E sales of $5,391 were $170 million above the January-August 1977 E sales.

Since the inception of the E Bond sales, in May 1941, 4,300 million pieces of Series E and H bonds worth approximately $272 billion have been purchased. Of these purchases, more than 730 million bonds worth $79.5 billion are outstanding.

The nations of Iceland, Costa Rica, and Liechtenstein have no armed forces.

TAURID METEORS

Saturday, the Taurid Meteor shower will be at its maximum. At this time, twice the normal number of meteors will be available for observation by the single observer. These meteors will collide with the earth at velocities of 28 kilometers per second (62,650 miles per hour). Meteors are solid materials moving around the sun much like the earth moves around the sun. When meteoroids enter the earth's atmosphere, they heat as they collide with molecules of air. We see the meteoroids when they become hot enough to glow. At this visible stage we call them meteors or shooting stars or falling stars, although they are not stars at all. Most of them vaporize or evaporate before falling to the ground. If a meteor does reach the ground, it is called a meteorite. Meteorites may be seen in museums.

MOON

A waxing moon will be in the sky this week. Moonset varies from 6:13 p.m. today until 5 minutes past midnight next Wednesday. First Quarter phase of the moon will occur at 11:18 a.m. Tuesday. At this time the moon will be 90 degrees east of the sun as we see it from the earth.

Earth and moon will be closer together on Sunday than at any other time this month. At this perigee only 369,000 kilometers (229,300 miles) will separate the moon and earth.

VISIBLE PLANETS

Mars, Jupiter, and Saturn are the visible planets this week. Mars is among the stars of Scorpius, setting shortly after sunset. Jupiter rises about an hour and one-half before midnight with the stars of Cancer. Saturn rises shortly after midnight with the stars of Leo.

Venus will be between the earth and the sun on Tuesday at 4:00 p.m. This orientation of the sun, Venus, and earth is called an inferior conjunction of Venus.

DAYLIGHT DECREASES

Tuesday there will be 13 minutes less daylight than there is today. Sunrise was at 6:45 this morning. Ten hours 31 minutes later, the sun will set at 5:16 p.m. At the end of the week, sunrise will be seven minutes later at 6:52 a.m. Sunset will be six minutes earlier at 5:16 p.m.
